

UNABLE TO AGREE IN SCHMIDT CASE

Jury, After Deliberating for More Than Thirty-Two Hours,
Discharged by Court.

TWO STAND FOR ACQUITTAL

Remaining Ten for First-Degree Murder—Members Part as Enemies.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, December 30.—The jury which held in its hands the fate of Hans Schmidt, who has been on trial for the murder of Anna Amuller, after deliberating for more than thirty-two hours, was discharged by Judge Foster at 10:07 o'clock to-night, after Lawrence Otinger, the foreman, had informed the court that the twelve were unable to agree upon a verdict.

When the jury was discharged, the members stood ten for conviction of murder in the first degree, and two for acquittal on the grounds of insanity. Calling each other "boobs" and "persons unit mentally, tempermentally and morally to sit upon this jury," the twelve parted in the spacious corridor of the Criminal Courts Building, enemies, after creating one of the most extraordinary scenes ever witnessed in the famous building.

Their hair disheveled, anger glaring from their eyes, and sullen, they took their seats precisely at 10 o'clock. Foreman Otinger addressed Judge Foster as follows:

"Your Honor, there is no possible chance of our coming to an agreement. We stand the same upon our last ballot as we did on our first. Ten of the members of this jury feel firmly convinced that we have two other members who are absolutely mentally, tempermentally and morally unfit to serve as jurors."

Judge Foster then said as long as there was no hope of their coming to an agreement, he would discharge them.

The two men who stood out against conviction were John Grivith and William A. McAuliffe.

Shivering with rage, McAuliffe hurried out of the courtroom. In answer to a question as to whether it is not true that the ten feared that Schmidt might one day be released if he was committed to Matteawan, McAuliffe replied hotly:

"Yes that is the position those other 'boobs' took. Grivith and I felt firmly convinced from the start that Schmidt was insane when he committed the crime, and no argument could change our opinion."

"I stood out because I believed this man was insane," said Grivith.

All of the jurymen approached were emphatic in their denials that the subject of release was ever broached during the turbulent thirty-three hours they spent together.

LAMBETH ON COMMITTEE

National Collegiate Association Elects Officers.
New York, December 30.—The National Collegiate Association, which met here to-day to discuss various questions affecting intercollegiate athletics, to-night elected the following officers:

President, Dean L. B. R. Riggs, of Harvard; vice-president, Professor W. L. Dudley of Vanderbilt; secretary and treasurer, Professor F. W. Nicholson, of Wesleyan.

Track committee, Professor J. W. Marvet, Brown; F. Castleton, Ohio State University, and W. A. Lambeth, University of Virginia. This committee was instructed to bring track rules up to date.

After a lengthy discussion of principles of amateurism, a resolution was adopted prohibiting colleges allowing students who have been remunerated for playing any game from competing in any intercollegiate games.

CHICAGO CHOSEN FOR NEXT MEETING

American Historical Association
Also Elects New Officers.

Chicago, S. C., December 29.—Andrew C. McLaughlin, professor of history in Chicago University, late to-day was elected president of the American Historical Association. In annual convention here, Chicago was selected as the 1914 meeting place.

The election of officers and other matters of business were disposed of at a brief session, which followed a steamboat excursion on Charleston harbor. Members of the association spent several hours at Fort Sumter and other historic points about the bay.

Teaching of history, colonial commerce and military history, formed the topics considered at the morning meeting of the association. Among the speakers was Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

Other officers selected to-day were: First vice-president, H. Morse Stephens, professor of history, University of California; second vice-president, George L. Burr, librarian of Cornell University; secretary, Waldo G. Leland, Washington; treasurer, Clarence W. Bowen, New York; secretary of the council, Evaria B. Greene, professor of history, University of Illinois.

It was decided to hold a supplementary summer meeting in San Francisco, Cal., 1915, the annual meeting of that year in Washington, D. C., and the 1916 meeting in Cincinnati, O.

The Herbert Baxter Adams essay prize had been awarded to Miss Violet Barbour, of Virginia.

The annual convention will be continued to-morrow at Columbia, S. C., in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Historical Association.

M'ADOO AT EMERSON HOME

Secretary of Treasury in Recupercating
Near Baltimore.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, December 30.—Secretary McAdoo is recuperating at the home of Isaac E. Emerson, at Brookland Wood, a few miles from Baltimore. The secretary's son married a daughter of the Baltimore millionaire.

Recently the daughter of the secretary was ill in North Carolina, and she was taken by her husband. It is reported, to Baltimore to be treated. The secretary is believed here to have joined a family party at the home of Captain Emerson.

He is in touch hourly, however, through telephone, with the Treasury Department, and is directing the organization work of the new currency system. Reports at the treasury to-day announced a rapid improvement in the health of the secretary.

It was announced to-day that the complete itinerary of the regional reserve bank organization board, consisting of Secretaries McAdoo and Houston, of the Department of Agriculture, will be completed in forty-eight hours, and that all cities claiming their right to such banks will be heard by February 22. Train schedules for the various cities are being arranged by representatives of the railroads over which the two secretaries might travel.

Assuming that husband and wife are living together, the regulation provides that the husband must make his return at the end of the year provided, but where the husband and wife separate between date of issuance of the regulations and date of filing in of banks, separate returns must be made by the husband and wife when divorce proceedings are pending, although divorce proceedings are not mentioned, and apparently not recognized under the Treasury regulations.

If either husband or wife separately has an income equal to or in excess of $3,000 a return of annual net income is required under the law, and such return must include the income of both, and in such the return must be made, even though the combined income of both be less than $3,000.

If the aggregate net income of both exceeds $4,000 an annual return of their combined incomes must be made, although neither one separately has an income of $3,000 per annum. They are jointly and separately liable for such return and for the payment of the tax.

JULIAN S. CARR NOT IN RACE

Denies He Will Be Candidate for Governor of North Carolina.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Raleigh, N. C., December 30.—General Julian S. Carr, who was here to-day, gave a statement to the newspapers, making it clear that he will not be in the race for Governor next campaign. This is his definite statement.

"I am not a candidate for Governor. I have not said, nor authorized any one to say for me, that I would accept the nomination. I am deeply grateful to friends for letters and other expressions of my candidacy and offering support. I sincerely appreciate all these, but my purpose is to remain in private station."

The probable candidates for Governor thus far developed are: Governor W. W. Williams; of Wilmington; A. W. McLean, of Lumberton; Lieutenant Governor E. S. Daughton, of Rocky Mount, and Cameron Morrison, of Charlotte.

TO IDENTIFY MAN WHO CRIED "FIRE"

Counsel for Federation Says He Will Produce Witnesses to Point Out Individual.

MANY DESCRIPTIONS OF HIM

Strike in Copper District to Enter Upon Its Final Stage
Within Two Days.

Calumet, Mich., December 30.—Identification of the man who started the Christmas Eve catastrophe by calling "fire" in a crowded hall here, was forecast to-night by O. N. Hilton, chief counsel of the Western Federation of Miners. Mr. Hilton asked that the coroner's inquest into the tragedy of seventy-two deaths be adjourned until to-morrow, saying that he desired to produce witnesses who claimed they could identify the man.

The greater part of the evidence again to-day was that the cry of "fire" came from within the hall. Three of the thirty or more witnesses claimed to have seen a Citizens' Alliance button on the man who cried "fire," but most of them said they had seen no pin. He was seen, however, by persons in different parts of the hall, and there were a half score descriptions of the man.

Uncompromising adherence to their determination never by direct or indirect means to recognize the Western Federation of Miners was pronounced to-day by mine managers of the copper strike district, who were willing to discuss the visit here of John B. Densmore, solicitor of the Department of Labor.

"We could not treat with the federation even if we wished," said F. W. Denton, manager of the Copper Range Consolidated Company. "The men at work never would consider employment underground with members of the union, for there always would be trouble, and in view of the fact that 10,000 men are working for the companies, we cannot ignore their interests."

The strike is to enter upon its final stage within two days, to-morrow being the last upon which the companies will receive applications for work from strikers. Originally, December 1 had been set as the limit. Whatever good the extension of thirty days might have accomplished, was wiped out by the Italian Hall disaster, the controversy as to who should give relief to afflicted families, and the deportation of Charles H. Moyer, president of the federation.

The detailed figures obtained from both sides to-day found opposing claims as wide apart as the poles. Employers said there were less than 3,000 actual strikers left in the district, but union headquarters furnished statistics showing that weekly strike benefits are being paid to 10,123 men.

The companies figure that 14,300 men were affected by the calling of the strike. To-day they claimed 9,640 men were at work, half of the difference between the two totals having gone to other districts, thus leaving 2,330 strikers.

Woman Will Close Saloons.

Portland, Ore., December 30.—Governor West has ordered his private secretary, Miss Fern Hobbs, to proceed immediately to Copperfield, a mining town, and close saloons and gambling houses running there in violation of the law. The Governor said he had called on the sheriff of the district attorney to close the places, but that "all they did was talk."

Miss Hobbs will be accompanied by a special agent of the State.

TROOPS ORDERED TO CHESTERTOWN

Possibility of Lynching Causes
Governor to Take This Action.

Baltimore, Md., December 30.—Acting on information received from Chestertown, Md., Governor Goldsborough issued an order for a battalion of the Fifth Regiment, National Guard, to leave here for that place to-night. Three companies went on a special train and one company embarked on a State steamer at Annapolis. It was expected they would arrive between 1 and 2 o'clock in the morning.

While there was no indication of further trouble at Chestertown, it is understood the authorities believed there was a possibility that if only one of the negroes charged with slaying James H. Coleman is convicted of first degree murder, the other might be lynched.

Indictments Against Two.

Chestertown, Md., December 30.—An indictment, charging murder in the first degree, was returned by the grand jury to-day against Norman Mabel and James Paraway, negroes, for killing James H. Coleman, a well-to-do farmer, last Tuesday. Both had confessed, giving robbery as their motive. It is expected the trial will begin to-morrow.

Chief Judge Constable instructed the grand jury to rigidly investigate the storming of the jail on Saturday night by a mob endeavoring to lynch the negroes. He urged indictment of all implicated.

It is understood that State's Attorney Vickers has the names of several men alleged to have taken part in the mob. Few were masks.

Late to-night Chief Judge Albert L. Constable said he and his associates requested Governor Goldsborough to send State troops here.

"We have been led to believe," said Judge Constable, "that the mob will demand that these men be hanged."

MAROONED CREW RESCUED

After Forced Stay of Six Months on Easter Island, Picked Up by Steamer.

Norfolk Island, December 30.—The crew of the wrecked schooner El Dorado, of San Francisco, after a forced stay of six months on Easter Island, were rescued by the steamer El Dorado, which left Columbia River on April 1 for Antofagasta, was abandoned at sea on June 13, and her crew of eleven men made their way to a boat to Easter Island. The place is practically uninhabited, and is out of all trade routes.

Captain Benson decided to risk another voyage in his small boat, and, with three volunteers, set out to sea, leaving the two mates, the ship's cook and four sailors behind. After a twenty-eight-days' voyage, the captain reached Papeete, one of the Society Islands, on November 5.

Nothing further was heard of the marooned men until the arrival at the cable station here of the Knight of the Garter, which had the rest of El Dorado's crew on board.

Importation from Argentine May Force Prices Down.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, December 30.—The South American freighter Elstree Grange reached port to-day from Buenos Aires and Montevideo with 1,750 tons of chilled and frozen Argentine meats, the largest shipment of frozen beef ever imported to this country. Whether the shipment will force prices down is a matter of much speculation among the butchers. If the importation is successful, the Salsipueda Company of Buenos Aires, the shippers, will place more vessels in a direct South America-New York-Boston service.

Dance on January 27.

No action was taken because the proposed movement might become political in character, whereas the chamber is strictly an association of business men. The committee may hold a special meeting to consider the matter again or take action at its regular meeting on January 27.

Mr. Scheffel, learning of the committee's move, said he was hopeful that something definite might be done at the forthcoming meeting.
